NEW CERTIFICATE

Certificate in Business Management · CBM · Certified Business Manager

NEW CREDENTIAL

Earn the Certificate in Business Management and the Certified Business Manager (CBM) Designation either by taking a two-part examination or through the Grandfather Clause.

A business professional who is both a specialist in a chosen field and a generalist across a broad range of additional business disciplines is extremely valuable to an organization in today's business world. The generalist can communicate comfortably and negotiate competently with his/her team as well as within the global network. The cross-functional knowledge obtained from the CBM program will make you an effective team player and business manager.

The CBM designation was created by Mr. S. Rao Vallabhaneni, who is an educator, author, publisher and practitioner in the business field. The CBM credential broadens your knowledge, enhances your understanding, and thus equips you to take on greater challenges to pursue a wider range of career opportunities, and to increase your earning potential. It is like a more efficient, less costly MBA. The CBM designation is the only generalist certification in the business field.

If you already have a professional certificate in a business specialty, you may acquire a generalist certificate, the CBM, for a limited time, through the Grandfather Clause. After the Grandfather Clause time expires on December 31, 2001, you will be required to take a two-part examination to earn the CBM.

Individuals working in several business specialties and who have earned certain specialty certifications are eligible to apply for the CBM designation under the grandfather clause. To see if you qualify, and for details on how to apply, please visit our web site: www.cbmexam.com or call us at 323-936-6757.
